Mastering the Flow of a Behavior-Free Family Practice

Have you ever worried that your uncertainty in handling kids will leave a bad impression? Maybe a child you're working with just won't cooperate; or their behavior is ruining the experience for the rest of your patients.

If your heart guides you to help kids but the effort it takes to master technique, behavior, or clinic flow leaves you worried or unsure, this one day seminar is for you. You'll learn an effective, practical approach to peacefully get kids on the table and adjusted without resistance, refusal or disruption to your flow or others around you.

Samantha Moe, leading Child Behavior Expert, and Dr Tye Moe, renowned Pediatric Chiropractor, will equip you with skills and certainty to create your ideal office environment - yes, even when it's filled with the most subluxated children.

What if moms told you, "Wow, you do really well with kids!" and raved about your clinic to their friends?

Build the loyalty of moms in your community and your sense of effectiveness. End each day feeling fulfilled because you and your staff, together, know how to create positive interactions and flow so you can deliver the best care possible.

What you'll leave with:

1 - What to do when kids aren't cooperating (or running around, or even screaming) to restore peace in your clinic

2 - A proactive behavior plan, pediatric office visit flow, and system (specific to your office) to create a peaceful pediatric environment, and a more enjoyable experience for you, your staff, and the rest of your patients

3 - Develop rapport and easy connection with even the most challenging and the most shy kiddos

Bonus - How to apply tonal adjusting to children who don't sit still!
